What are Child Protection Conferences?

Child Protection Conferences are meetings that bring together people that are working with your family such as social workers, teachers or doctors who are worried about serious harm to you and your brothers or sisters (if you have any). They help make plans to keep you safe.

National Youth Advocacy Service

NYAS helps young people to have their say at Child Protection Conferences.

The service is independent and confidential

Independent means that the people at NYAS do not work for anyone else.

Confidential means that the people at NYAS will keep what you say private, unless you, or someone else is in danger.
